

PRACTISING EXISTENTIAL PSYCHOTHERAPY

15th NOVEMBER 2013

Existential therapy is an approach to psychotherapy rooted in philosophy. In this workshop, Professor Ernesto Spinelli will describe the defining principles, and structural model that underlie his distinctive approach.

Professor Spinelli will illustrate this approach using material from his practice.

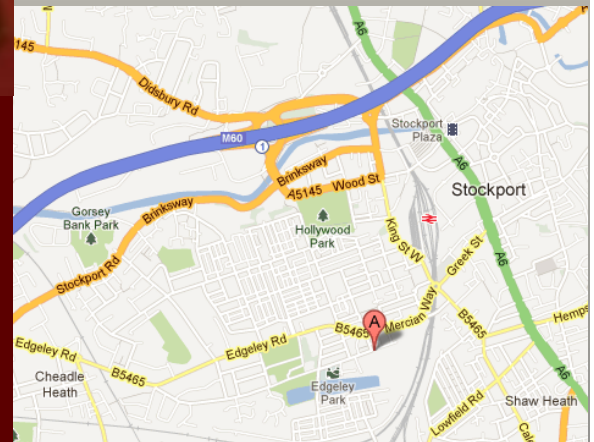

The workshop will appeal to counsellors, therapists, psychologists and anyone with an interest in an existential view of life.

Cost £120 including tea, coffee and lunch (£90 for full time students). For bookings made in July or August (subject to limited availability), there will be a 'summer saver' rate of £110.

6 hours CPD. A certificate of attendance will be provided.

Professor Ernesto Spinelli

Until recently Ernesto Spinelli was Professor and Senior Fellow at the School of Psychotherapy and Counselling, Regent's College, London. He is a UKCP registered psychotherapist, a fellow of the BACP, a Chartered Psychologist and Fellow of the British Psychological Society. He also maintains a private practice as a psychotherapist, coach and supervisor and enjoys a reputation as a teacher and presenter. For this event he returns to Manchester which was his first 'home' in the UK.
